Course Description

This course will introduce students to the language and culture of German-speaking countries focusing on the language competencies particularly relevant for oral communication in everyday situations.

The course consists of six thematically connected modules two sessions each:

1. Hallo! Ich heiße... • In this module, students learn to speak about themselves. They prepare to provide a basic information about themselves and engage in a simple dialog with people they might meet. They learn how to greet people, introduce oneself, and say goodbye.
2. Meine Familie • In this module, students learn how to speak about their family members, and ask questions about the family.
3. Mein Studium • In this module, students learn how to speak about the university and their studies.
4. Mein Zimmer • This module focuses on the inanimate objects around us relevant to our everyday situations, such as house, room, classroom, and the objects in them.
5. Wie ist das Wetter heute? • This module focuses on the discussion of weather. Students learn to describe the weather and ask questions about it.
6. Was machen Sie gern? In this module, students learn how to express the likes and dislikes as well as basic comparisons.

By the end of the semester students will be able to:

- speak about themselves;
- ask basic questions;
- share basic information about their families and relatives;
- speak about their studies;
- speak about objects relevant to everyday situations;
- speak about the weather;
- express likes and dislikes.

The course is taught in German with some explanation of grammar points and cultural references in English.

Course Requirements

Class Participation • 24%

Active class participation is crucial for language learning. The following are the rubrics for participation:

	Attentiveness	Contribution	Use of German
Expectations are exceeded (90–100%)	The student always pays attention.	The student is always eager to contribute to class discussion, exercises, and group work. The student often asks questions. The student always volunteers answers.	The student speaks only German during class.
Expectations are met (80–89%)	The student pays attention most of the time.	The student is usually eager to contribute to class discussion, exercises, and group work. The student occasionally asks questions and volunteers answers most of the time.	The student speaks German almost always during class.
Expectations are barely met (70–79%)	The student sometimes pays attention.	The student is occasionally eager to contribute to class discussion, exercises, and group work. The student occasionally asks questions and sometimes volunteers answers.	The student speaks German most of the time during class, but sometimes still switches to English.
Expectations are not met (65–69%)	The student rarely pays attention.	The student almost never contributes to class discussion, exercises, and group work. The student almost never asks questions or volunteers answers.	The student speaks German some of the time during class, and often switches to English.

Homework Assignments • 36%

- The homework assignments listed in the Syllabus must be completed by the date indicated. Please note that for each day that an assignment is overdue 10% of its score will be deducted.
- There will be homework assignments not listed on the Syllabus given by the instructor during class.

Vocabulary Quizzes • 16%

Learning vocabulary is a crucial part of mastering a language. Each session students will write a 3-minute quiz based on the vocabulary portion learned for that session.

Oral Tests • 24%

At the end of each module, students will complete a speaking test outside the classroom using Canvas. The detailed instructions for each oral test will be uploaded on Canvas. These tasks will allow the students to demonstrate comprehensibility and fluency of their speech, their use of acquired vocabulary and grammar structures.

Course Website

Canvas (<https://tit.rutgers.edu/canvas>) is the main website for the course. Canvas contains the required course materials and assignments. It is also used for in-class vocabulary quizzes.

All students enrolled in this course should already have access to its Canvas website. Students who do not have access need to contact the instructor. Students should check the website frequently.

Students having any technical questions or issues with Canvas or needing technical assistance should contact the Rutgers Online Learning Helpdesk (athelp@canvas.rutgers.edu • 877.361.1134, available 24/7).

Communication with the Instructor

@ E-Mail

The best way to contact the instructor outside the classroom is to e-mail pichugin@rutgers.edu. Generally, the e-mails are answered within two business days. The e-mail subject line should start with 104 – FirstName LastName, e.g. 104 – Michael Smith – Question re..... This will help direct the message to the correct folder for quick processing. If the subject line is formatted differently, the message may be read with delay.

📄 Progress Reports

On the dates indicated in the Syllabus, students will write short progress reports, where they reflect upon the course and their individual progress. They will describe what they have learned, what more they would like to learn, what aspects of the course they like or dislike and why. The reports are not graded. They help the instructor better coordinate the students' expectations and progress with the learning goals of the course. The reports have to be sent as PDF files named 104 – Progress Report # – FirstName LastName.pdf, e.g. 104 – Progress Report 2 – Michael Smith.pdf and attached to an e-mail message sent to pichugin@rutgers.edu with the subject line 104 – Progress Report # – FirstName Lastname, e.g. 104 – Progress Report 2 – Michael Smith.

🕒 Office Hours

The students are always welcome during office hours at the times indicated on p. 1. This will give the students an opportunity to work with the instructor on individual language and skill needs and discuss individual questions and concerns. Please note that the semester schedule does not allow the instructor to stay after class to discuss any questions. Students are invited to discuss their questions during the office hours.

Policies

Academic Integrity

Violation of academic integrity is an extremely serious matter; it can lead to a student's failing the course and being referred to the University's Office of Student Conduct for disciplinary action. Note that use of online translation services is not permitted as a tool for generating work submitted for course credit. Please see the University's policies on academic integrity at <http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu> and discuss with the instructor any questions about this and related issues.

Attendance

All students must attend regularly and arrive prepared. If a student expects to miss one or two classes, he/she should use the University Self-Reporting Absence website (<https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra>) to indicate the date and the reason for the absence. An e-mail notification is automatically sent to the instructor. Those who miss three class sessions without a compelling excuse should expect a one-step reduction in the course grade (i.e. an A becomes a B+, a B+ becomes a B). Every additional three absences entail a further one-step grade-reduction. Three late arrivals count as one absence.

Note: It is the responsibility of the student who has been absent (for any reason) to find out what he/she has missed and obtain materials that may have been handed out.

Electronic Devices

Out of respect for fellow students and the instructor, cell phones must be put on vibration during class. All other electronic devices (iPods, iPads, tablets, audio players, etc.) must be turned off during class.

Recommended Activities

📖 103 • German for Travel • Thursdays 1:10 p.m. – 2:30 • AB-3100

This 1-credit course will introduce you to the language and culture of German-speaking countries focusing on the language competencies particularly relevant in travel situations. You will learn to speak about yourself in general and as traveler; ask basic travel questions; discuss your travel interests; learn about German-speaking countries and their inhabitants; orient yourself regarding the means of transportation and accommodations used in Europe; and learn to purchase tickets and book hotel rooms on German-language websites.

📖 105 • German for Reading Knowledge • Tuesdays 6:10 p.m. – 7:30 • SC-102

This 3-credit hybrid course, taught in English and German, develops the basic reading competencies in the German language. Texts read in the course are chosen from the humanities, the natural sciences, and the social sciences. By the end of the semester students will be able to • apply specific reading strategies to reading a text in German; read a text in German with correct pronunciation; recognize some grammar phenomena and apply this knowledge to understanding; apply some basic passive vocabulary to reading German texts; efficiently use online and paper-based dictionaries.

🎬 German Movie Nights

All Rutgers students of German are invited to German Movie Nights organized bi-weekly. The movies are shown in German with English subtitles. Admission is free. Further information will be distributed via German Interest mailing list.
