Course Description

This course serves as a continuation into studying the methodology and techniques of translating German to English and English to German. The course will have the form of a workshop in which students learn to develop strategies and techniques to translate a variety of texts from different subject areas and topics. We will practice on typical problems which a translator encounters when faced with texts relating to technology, natural and social sciences, anthropology, history, literature, commerce, and advertising. Through practice exercises and assigned texts, students will learn how to use a variety of dictionaries, glossaries, and hand-books which are useful for translators. We will also look at the history of translation studies and discuss the practical application and typical tasks that a translator faces today.

Required Textbooks: A good dictionary (German-English-English-German). Photocopied text material will be distributed in class.

Taught in German

PREREQUISITES: German 232, or placement exam.

FINAL GRADE

Class participation	20%
Quizzes/oral presentations	20%
2 tests or special assignments	20%
Timely completion and quality	10%
Final examination	30%

Announced quizzes cannot be made up. The grade for a missed quiz is a "0".

Assignments will be made in class concerning the material to be covered, and the corresponding homework. Written material must be submitted in a timely fashion, typed and DOUBLE SPACED (to leave room for corrections).

For oral reports, please make sure to indicate the source of your translation/report, and prepare a glossary of pertinent terms occurring in your presentation available to the class before you begin.

Grade distribution

A=90-100%; B+=85-89; B=80-84; C+=75-79; C=70-74; D=65-69; F=64 and below

Required texts: A good dictionary (German-English-English-German). Photocopied text material will be distributed in class.

Final Exam date, time & location: To be determined

Departmental policies

- Attendance

All students must attend regularly and arrive prepared; if you expect to miss one or two classes, please use the University absence reporting website <https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/> to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An E-mail is automatically sent to me. Those who miss more than two class sessions without a compelling excuse should expect a one-step reduction in the course grade (i.e. an A becomes a B+, a B+ becomes a B). Every additional three absences may entail a further one-step grade-reduction. Three late arrivals count as one absence. Note: It is the responsibility of students who have been absent (for any reason) to find out what they have missed and obtain materials that may have been handed out.

- Cell Phones

Cell phones and all other technological devices (beepers, iPods, MP3players...) must be turned off during class out of respect for the instructor and fellow students. Please schedule all important phone communications outside of class time.

- Photocopies

Department photocopying fees add up quickly and impressively; we will therefore need to collect from each student 5 cents per page toward the cost of handouts other than quizzes and tests.

- Disability Support Services

Students who may be requesting accommodations due to disabilities are encouraged to familiarize themselves with procedures and policies regarding disability support services at the following website: <http://disabilityservices.rutgers.edu/>. It is recommended that students seeking accommodations begin filing paperwork as soon as possible as the documentation review process may take up to 30 business days. Students are encouraged to speak with teachers about these issues at the beginning of the term. All such conversations will be kept strictly confidential.

- Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are an extremely serious matter, and can lead to a student's failing the course and being referred to the University's Office of Student Conduct for disciplinary action. When referring to ideas other than your own, always acknowledge your sources clearly and completely, whether you are quoting or paraphrasing. Note also that use of online translation services is not permitted as a tool for generating work that you submit for course credit. Please see the University's policies on academic integrity at <http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/>, and discuss with your instructor any questions you may have about this and related issues.
