Course Description

This is an instructor-guided laboratory practicum based on intensive use of media. Designed for the improvement of aural/oral skills, this course provides the opportunity for additional language practice. Practice involves use of text-related audiotapes and videotapes, individual and group work, and recordings of students' speech for evaluation of pronunciation and fluency.

The German 103 lab course is an excellent supplement to your Elementary German 101 course. It will optimize your performance and confidence in the German language and help you deal with specific challenges as they arise during the semester.

Study Materials

While there is no required textbook, this course coincides with Elementary German 101. We will be following the lessons presented in your course's textbook:

Erwin Tschirner, Brigitte Nikolai, and Tracy D. Terrell. Kontakte: A Communicative Approach. 7th ed. Boston, MA: McGraw-Hill, 2013. ISBN: 1259116948 / 9781259116940

Course Websites

Sakai is the general website for the course. You can find it under the following link: <http://sakai.rutgers.edu>. You should be enrolled and have access automatically if you are a registered Rutgers student and have signed up for the course. If not, then please contact the instructor and he will give you access. Please check the website frequently for the most recent announcements, worksheets and assignments.

Course requirements and assignments

Attendance and Class Participation (10%)

Regular attendance and class participation are essential when it comes to learning a foreign language. As such, it is crucial that you always come to class well-prepared, remain attentive, participate in discussions and activities, and make every effort to engage with both the instructor and your fellow classmates in German.

Homework Assignments (30%)

Homework assignments will consist mainly of activities/worksheets and minor projects. Assignments and due dates will be announced throughout the semester. Late homework assignments will not be accepted.

Mini Projects and Final Project (40 & 20%)

After completing each section of the textbook, a project will be assigned based on the chapter's grammar and theme. Details for each project will be given one week before the due date. The final project will be announced after Thanksgiving and is due on the last day of class. No late assignments will be accepted unless an extension has been arranged in advance.

PLEASE NOTE: There is no final exam for this course

Communication with the Instructor

Email

The best way to communicate with the instructor outside the classroom is to email tanja.rommelfanger@rutgers.edu.

Department and School Policies

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are an extremely serious matter, and can lead to a student's failing the course and being referred to the University's Office of Student Conduct for disciplinary action. When referring to ideas other than your own, always acknowledge your sources clearly and completely, whether you are quoting or paraphrasing. Note also that use of online translation services is not permitted as a tool for generating work that you submit for course credit. Please see the University's policies on academic integrity at <http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/>, and discuss with your instructor any questions you may have about this and related issues.

Attendance

All students must attend regularly and arrive prepared; if you expect to miss one or two classes, please use the University absence reporting website <https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/> to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An email is automatically sent to me. Those who miss more than two class sessions without a compelling excuse should expect a one-step reduction in the course grade (i.e. an A becomes a B+, a B+ becomes a B). Every additional three absences may entail a further one-step grade-reduction. Three late arrivals count as one absence. Note: It is the responsibility of students who have been absent (for any reason) to find out what they have missed and obtain materials that may have been handed out.

Cell Phones

Cell phones and all other technological devices (beepers, iPods, MP3players, etc.) must be turned off during class out of respect for the instructor and fellow students.

Disability Support Services

Students who may be requesting accommodations due to disabilities are encouraged to familiarize themselves with procedures and policies regarding disability support services at the following website: <http://disabilityservices.rutgers.edu/>. It is recommended that students seeking accommodations begin filing paperwork as soon as possible as the documentation review process may take up to 30 business days. Students are encouraged to speak with the instructor about these issues at the beginning of the term. All such conversations will be kept strictly confidential.

Additional Assistance

Students are encouraged to come to their instructor's office hours with any questions and problems pertaining to class. Any student who needs additional help should contact the Learning Resource Center or the Department's tutors as soon as possible. Additional practice is available at the conversation tables offered each semester at the Language Institute. Informal conversation sessions are also held weekly in the Rutgers Student Center. Check the Department website for further details: <http://german.rutgers.edu>.
